For code violations

City attorney eyes suit to close motel doors

By DALE GOWING
Of The Roman Staff

Romulus City Attorney William S. Munger is preparing to file an injunction suit in Wayne County Circuit Court to close down the Abbey Inn motel on Merriman Road on the grounds that the motel violates the city building and fire protection codes.

"The city wishes to have a hearing on the matter, then will ask for an injunction to shut the motel down," Munger said. "The building is not up to city codes and its inspectors found it to be deficient in fire protection in many areas."

The attorney for Abbey Inn, however, said the motel was built "pursuant to the building code and is as good as any building in the city."

"IT IS 100 per cent fire resistant and everything was done right to the code," contended Albert Sugar, legal counsel to the Southfield law firm of Somers, Schwartz, Silver, Tyler and Gordon. In addition, he said the inn would file a counter claim against Romulus, if the city goes to court.

The Abbey Inn is part of a nationwide chain of motels. It is situated at the juncture of Merriman and I-94.

According to Romulus Mayor Terry L. Troutt, the 212-unit motel was built in violation of the city's building ordinances, the biggest violations being the absence of masonry walls and improper fire escape exit signs.

He said the building is 99 per cent wood, "is not fire safe. It has been determined as such by fire inspection firms brought in by the city. Troutt added that the firms have advised the inn of the alleged deficiencies, but the owner has contested the findings."

THE MOTEL is owned by Alex Seskin.

Troutt said several building inspectors made on Romulus structures prior to the election of his administration last November were not done accurately. He has instructed the building inspector to review many of the cases.

"This is a very serious thing," he added. "I don't see how it (Abbey Inn) got insurance on the building."

A thorough fire inspection of the building would have had to be made before the owner could obtain insurance, according to the mayor.

Troutt said the motel, which is "80 to 90 percent full 7-days-a-week," had to be evacuated several months ago when a "small basket fire" was reported.

"IT IS A wood, pre-fab type of building with no fire doors or stairwell doors, and it would melt down in nothing flat, if there really was a big fire there," he said.

Sugar said the inn's certificate of occupancy was granted Jan. 30, well after Troutt's administration took office.

"Certainly he can't blame anyone else for that," Sugar added.

He also stressed that the inn received its operator's license June 4, and was declared "absolutely fire proof and in good condition," at that time.

Sugar said that prior to the approval of the occupancy certificate in January, "all of the offices of the city had said OK to the building."

HE SAID Abbey Inn recently called in an engineering architect who gave the inn a clean bill of health.

In addition, Sugar noted that the city code does not require masonry walls and that the wood used in the building "is treated and fire resistant."

"The inn is quite prepared to meet anything Romulus officials have to say and will prove it has complied with the code," he said. "This whole thing smacks of harassment, and Abbey Inn is interested in defending its good name."

Munger said no date has been set for filing the suit in court.

Romulus voters nix charter amendments

Romulus Mayor Terry L. Troutt blamed the city's failure to thoroughly inform its citizens and the voters' current bleak outlook on government for the defeat of six city charter amendment proposals on last week's primary election ballot.

He also said he will urge the city council to put the proposals back on the next election ballot in November.

"I don't know why the city didn't do a general mailing to inform the people on these propositions," Troutt said. "Actually, I really didn't do much myself on it either."

"THIS WAS also one bad time to have anything on the ballot to change government. With the total national scene the way it is, it's no wonder they were turned down."

Romulus City Clerk Leonard Folmar said the deadline for re-submitting an item for ballot placement is Sept. 17, and Troutt said it would be re-submitted, contingent upon council approval last night.

"This time we'll put out a flyer on it telling the people what the propositions include," the mayor said.

The six proposed amendments dealt chiefly with city competitive bidding regulations in the present charter, plus a proposal to amend restrictions surrounding salary determination of city hall secretaries. Another amendment would have allowed the mayor more time in submitting a budget.

IN MOST cases, the margins of defeat were large. Only one proposal—proposition A—came within sight of victory. Proposition A asked for the shortening of the time the budget is on file with the city clerk prior to a public

Court delays hearing on runway injunction

Wayne County's motion to dismiss an injunction lawsuit, filed by the City of Romulus, to halt at least temporarily a runway expansion program at Detroit Metropolitan Airport, will be acted upon at a hearing in U.S. District Court in Detroit at 9 a.m. Aug. 26.

The hearing originally was scheduled for Monday, but postponed this week. Judge Cornelia G. Kennedy will preside.

AIRPORT CONSTRUCTION crews this week continued to clear the runway site of trees and stumps in their grubbing operations in preparation for the laying of concrete.

Although the county warned in an earlier hearing in district court that any construction done would be "at its own peril," officials said they intend to continue with the project.

"I presume the county will be going ahead with the project," said Clayton Foor, legal advisor to the Wayne County Road Commission, which operates the airport and also is named in the Romulus lawsuit. The Romulus Community School District and homeowner Fouad Berry also are complainants in the injunction suit.

"I think the county will keep on with its plans," he added.

IN THE FIRST hearing July 25, the county surprised the plaintiffs by making a motion to dismiss their case on the grounds that the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) was not named as a defendant; that one governmental agency, the City of Romulus, cannot sue another governmental agency, the county, and that no harm ever has been done to the people in the area by the airport.

Wrecker's ball welcome

Residents in the Wayne-Ecorse roads area of Romulus will be relieved when the wrecker's ball removes this unsightly, burned-out house from its location at the roads' intersection. The house, in plain view from Wayne Road, has been standing in this scorched condition since it was hit by two fires last October. Both fires were determined to be arson. The house is scheduled to be razed before the end of the month, said Romulus City Clerk Leonard Folmar, who added that the long delay in removing the eyesore was due to red tape in securing demolishing permission from the building's owner. Folmar and city building authorities said costs dictate that they accumulate several structures for demolishing before securing bids for the project, and that it would be too expensive to issue a contract whenever a building needs razing. — The Romulus Roman photo.

On the inside

Wheels have begun to turn toward the establishment of a new church in the Romulus area. Members of the Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod will be meeting soon to develop plans for the new structure. See story on Page B-7.

For Western Wayne County

Clinic expansion aims at easing doctor dearth

By DALE GOWING
Of The Roman Staff

Western Wayne County's rising population and dwindling number of personal physicians have caused a crunch in area hospitals for persons seeking simple medical attention, but who don't have a regular family physician.

A Romulus clinic, however, is taking steps to relieve that problem. The Metro Industrial Clinic Inc. on Mid-diebelt Rd., is embarking on its third expansion in 18 months of existence and anticipates at least tripling its out-patient capacity.

ITS GREATEST asset to the community is expected to be its capabilities of administering the "family doctor" duties to the increasing number of new area residents without personal physicians. The rising number of apartment complexes in the area is responsible for causing the growing problems of new "settlers." And with the clinic's policies of 24-hour medical service, residents are flocking in for treatment rather than weather a prolonged wait at Wayne County General Hospital (WCGH) or Annapolis Hospital, clinic officials say.

"With the shortage of private doctors, the night practice should benefit the residents," said Lawrence F. Dame, the clinic's business manager. "And the clinic expects its patient load to increase from its present 200 a day to 350 a day."

Presently a 1-floor facility, located above its landlord—the Pine Engineering Co., the clinic will be enlarged to three floors plus a basement with its expansion to a vacant area south of the building. At least 20 examining rooms will be added to the existing 30.

THE PHYSICIAN staff of nine full-time doctors will be matched with a like amount on the night staff alone, Dame said.

After the expansion is finished, the facility will be the largest industrial clinic in Michigan, Dame added.

Having such a clinic in the community elicits nothing but smiles from Romulus Mayor Terry L. Troutt.

"This really is something for Romulus," he said. "You'd be surprised at the amount of people without a family doctor. That causes problems when you get ill suddenly. Where can you go?"

Doctors at the Metro Clinic treat everything from "black lung" to heart disease and skin disorders. There are specialists for almost every illness on the staff, Dame said.

The clinic began as a private facility to treat personnel of the Pine Engineering Co. and served industrial plants in the area, and underwent its first expansion when the demand for services kept increasing, he added.

It climbed from four patients its first day to hundreds, which kept on soaring with the receipt of medical contracts from Kelsey-Hayes, the local Ford Motor and General Motors plants and all of the airlines at nearby Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

IN ADDITION, THE clinic is the official medical facility of employees of the City of Romulus, Taylor and Inkster, the Wayne-Westland School District and area post offices.

In all, the clinic services over 400 local accounts, Dame said.

It was sale time

of Main Street in downtown Belleville buying long-awaited bargains on Aug. 2-3. The scene of busy shoppers continued during the 2-day sidewalk sale. Chamber of commerce officials said the sales program, including entertainment and sidewalk cafes, was "the best ever." — Enterprise-Roman photo.

THEY DISPLAY T-SHIRTS — Sidewalk sale time is a good time to offer not only bargains galore but also to promote one's business or profession. Belleville realtor Stu Angel (left) of Earl Keim Realty, displays a T-shirt promoting the Board receives sewer work bids

Five bid proposals for the construction of a 10-inch sanitary sewer extension on Rawsonville Road have been received by Van Buren Township Board of Trustees.

Ordinance to be read

A public hearing on Romulus' proposed animal ordinance is scheduled for 7 p.m. Aug. 28 in the council chambers of Romulus City Hall.

Use anti-freeze

A 45 to 50 per cent solution of permanent anti-freeze in a car's radiator should be maintained year-round, according to car care experts. In hot weather, it raises the boiling point of the coolant and protects the cooling system from corrosion.

Society claims to calm

The International Meditation Society will conduct an introductory lecture on transcendental meditation, as taught by the Maharishi Mahesh Yogi, at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Romulus Public Library.

The lecture will be given by Patti Kanclerz, who was trained personally by Mahesh Yogi to teach the technique.

According to the society, "transcendental meditation is a simple, natural technique which allows the individual to contact a field of tremendous energy, creative intelligence and happiness which is inside each of us and to bring out these values into his or her daily life."

"At the same time, the person gets a very deep rest and relaxation," said a society spokesman. "It allows deep-rooted stresses and tensions to dissolve easily, leaving him or her free to enjoy life more."

Voters defeat proposal hearing, and to change the time of submission and adoption of the budget to enable adoption 30 days before the expiration of the fiscal year rather than 45 days before.

The proposition lost, 740 to 639, and was the proposal of primary concern to Trout.

"For one thing, I can't comply with the charter as the budget now stands," he said. "And for another, it is a waste of a lot of city money now. The present date the mayor must submit the budget is before I even know the value of the city. I have to have to opinions of the department heads before I can submit an accurate budget."

The other five propositions fell by sizeable margins, the biggest being proposition D, which lost 1033 to 333.

"WHY ANYONE would want to vote against that one I don't know," said Trout. The proposition asked voters to allow the city to make purchases without competitive bids if the mayor determines that only one source of supply exists for the item to be purchased.

As an example of the current charter regulation, if the city wishes to purchase an IBM typewriter it must advertise for bids even though just one company—IBM—makes the typewriters, Trout said.

"It's a waste of time and advertising money," he added.

Proposition B, amending the salaries of the administrative secretaries to the mayor, clerk and treasurer, was defeated by a 776 to 629 count.

PROPOSITION C, amending competitive bidding regulations to require city bids for purchases in excess of $1,500 instead of $750, was crushed by a 797 to 574 count.

Propositions E and F were overwhelmingly turned down, "E" by a 935 to 461 and "F" by a 962 to 412 count.

Proposition E was an emergency buying amendment allowing the mayor to make emergency purchases without having to advertise for bids. Proposition F would have allowed the city to purchase from other governmental units without having to follow the city's own bidding requirements.

For commission seat

Harris sweeps primary race

The opposition was there, but the true competition was missing from the 26th District Wayne County Commissioner primary race.

Incumbent Edgar L. Harris overwhelmed his nearest challenger for the Democratic nod to face Republican Lorraine J. Vandette in November.

Harris more than doubled the votes gained by fellow Democrat Richard J. Trolley in the polling. He polled 813 Romulus votes to Trolley's 314.

Mitchell Moran placed third with 211 votes in the city's balloting.

IN THE ENTIRE district, which covers Romulus, Taylor, Flat Rock, Rockwood and Huron Township, Harris tallied 3,504 votes; Trolley, 1,700, and Moran 1,675.

Mrs. Vandette, who ran unopposed for the Republican nod, received 146 votes in Romulus and 541 in the district.

A total of 2,107 votes were cast in Romulus.

City voters also endorsed Sander Levin for the Democratic gubernatorial bid with 1,037 votes to Jerome P. Cavanagh's 325 and James Wells' 184. Gov. William Milliken, who ran unopposed for the Republican nod, received 169 votes in the city.

JACK A. UNDERWOOD, who defeated Edgar R. Neiten for the Republican 15th Congressional District candidacy, received 98 Romulus votes to Neiten's 46. Incumbent Democrat William D. Ford collected 1,031 votes. He ran unopposed.

William Faust (D-13th District) and Republican James D. Walasky won in their unopposed bids for state senator.

In the race for the state representative seats in the city's two districts, incumbent Democrat Edward E. Mahalak and Republican Elbert Ray were unopposed in their bids for the 38th District seat. In the 22nd District, which dips into part of Romulus, Republican Lee West defeated Fred J. Domen, 11 to 4, to earn the right to face incumbent Democrat Gary M. Owen in November. Owen ran unopposed.

Richard T. Kelly, who won the Democratic county auditor's bid and will face Republican John Rutledge in November, polled 612 votes in Romulus. Challengers Roman S. Karwowski, Lewis Hubbard and Walter J. Rinso received 322, 192 and 65 votes respectively.

RUTLEDGE, WHO ran unopposed, received 146 votes in Romulus.

In the Romulus voting for the 34th District Court Judgeship, Henry Zaborowski overhwhelmed Fred H. Hogan and William J. Szlinis. Zaborowski polled 865 votes, Hogan 304 and Szlinis 247.

County may continue sheriff patrol service

The county's 10 townships have been given a reprieve in their fight to maintain the Wayne County Sheriff's Department patrols within their borders.

The Public Safety Committee of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, studying a plea by the townships for the continuation of patrols, Monday recommended to the board's Ways And Means Committee that the police service be extended to at least December.

The previous cutoff date was Aug. 31.

THE BOARD had planned to terminate what it labeled as "free" sheriff's patrol service to the townships. Continuation of the service would be too costly, the commissioners said. The townships, however, argued that the county is obliged to provide the service which is in essence paid for by the taxes collected in the townships.

The safety committee's recommendation to extend the service to allow for further study, however, is only a recommendation. The Ways and Means Committee, the financial body of the county, now must make a recommendation to the commissioners on whether the service should be extended.

The county's fiscal year begins in December.

The move is eyed by some as a tool for allowing the townships time to formulate tax increases to present to the voters in November.

THE COUNTY HAS said it would continue the sheriff's patrols, if the townships agreed to pay for the service. Sumpter and Canton townships suffered tax hike defeats in last week's election which would have provided funds to pay for the patrols.

The other affected townships are Huron, Plymouth, Northville, Redford, Brownstown, Grosse Ile and Grosse Pointe.

And now the nation feels whole

Heartbreak, irony marks resignation

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following column strings together separate impressions obtained during the emotional days marking Richard M. Nixon's resignation and the elevation of Gerald R. Ford to the Presidency. Heartbreak and heavy-handed irony marked the dramatic hours in Washington when Richard M. Nixon resigned the Presidency and was succeeded by Gerald R. Ford, Grand Rapids' all-American son. Humor was in short supply, but Ford's first speech as President hit just the right note and left Americans feeling their country was whole again. Ford, vice-president for only eight months and the first American chief executive not elected to the Presidency by the people, sought a different sort of mandate. The favorable reaction to his speech suggested he had succeeded. "I am acutely aware that you have not elected me your President by your ballots, but I ask you to confirm me by your prayers....," he said. "I have not sought this enormous responsibility but I will not shirk it." Eyes clouded over in the East Room of the White House, where Ford took the oath of office, and in countless living rooms and offices across the land when the nation's new President said: "May our former President, who brought peace to millions, find it for himself."

For newsmen on Washington's political beat the last few years have produced a giddy succession of images. Many think back to late February 1968. Nixon then was tramping through frigid New Hampshire, the first stop on the Presidential primary campaign trail. His only opponent Michigan Gov. George W. Romney had damaged his chances by truthfully conceding that high American brass had "brain washed" him about the true situation in Vietnam. Romney struggling to keep a smile on his face, turned up at a GOP function in a Washington hotel and told reporters he was withdrawing. Nixon, knowing he had a lock in, played it cool when word reached him in New Hampshire.

Nixon's inaugural parade Jan. 20, 1969 jammed Washington's streets. The man who had sought the White House with such dogged determination had made it at last. Yet there was a shadow on the scene. Vietnam War protesters clustered here and there along Pennsylvania Avenue pitched objects and shouted obscenities at the new chief executive.

The picture that sticks in the mind with ghost-like persistence relates to the Republican National Convention in Miami Beach in August of 1972. Renominated for second term running mates, Nixon and Spiro T. Agnew stood on the platform with their arms around each other waving to the cheering delegates. Everyone knew who Spiro was now, but his fate already was being sealed. In January 1973 a federal probe of kick backs and political corruption in Baltimore County, Maryland, got under way. One result of that investigation came on Oct. 10, 1973 when Agnew pleaded no contest to a single count of tax evasion and resigned as vice-president. That was the first of two scandals which propelled Ford to the White House under terms of the 25th Amendment. The other was Watergate which did in Nixon. Ironic note: Congressman Ford was the permanent chairman at the 1972 National Convention. He dreamed then of eventually becoming Speaker of the House.

"I suppose I'll only be able to call you Jerry a couple of more times," Sen. Griffin told Gerald Ford as the two conferred shortly before the political dam burst. The comment brought laughter and a solemn moment as well for these old friends and political allies. Ford does not stand on formality so Griffin may continue to call him Jerry in private. Publicly, however, one does not greet a President by his diminutive name.

With President Ford

The nation's in good hands

By LUCY WEISEND
Enterprise-Roman Editor

Our new President gives me a safe, comfortable feeling. A feeling that the United States again is in good hands—the hands of Gerald Ford. And after listening to President Ford's address to Congress Monday night, I found the new President warm and outgoing and above all human. AFTER ALL THE turmoil of Watergate, it seems to have done one thing. It has produced for this nation and its people a good leader.

A leader who stresses unity for the nation. A leader who Monday night seemed to be saying: I am in charge now. I am tough enough to do the job as your President, and I will do that job.

President Ford got a standing ovation when he was escorted to the podium to speak to Congress, he was interrupted more than 35 times during the speech by applause, and I felt like standing up to cheer when he said: "THERE WILL be no illegal tappings, eavesdroppings, buggings and break-ins by my administration."

For I feel the nation and its people have been bogged down with the Watergate scandal too long. And it is time for the nation to get on to other business to solve other problems, as President Ford is urging.

Our new President will be a strong one. AND I FEEL he will do the best for our nation. He will make every attempt to solve our problems.

And as he said Monday he will stand by his commitment and will stand by his responsibility as the President of the United States.

With Ford's Presidency

Michigan Republican to get boost

By BOB BERG
Enterprise-Roman Lansing Bureau

Even if President Gerald Ford were not from Michigan, his ascendancy to the nation's highest office would be an election year boost for the state's Republicans.

The boil of Watergate, which has festered and grown ever more painful over the last two years, has been lanced.

Instead of a President beleaguered by investigators, drawing his wagons into an ever tightening circle as the end became inevitable, the country now has a President everyone knows is honest and a period of goodwill, a "honeymoon," is starting.

FOR REPUBLICANS who have had to cope with the problem of deciding whether to alienate the people who wanted the President out or the people who wanted him to stay, the problem is gone. They now are associated with a new president, Richard Nixon quickly will be pushed to the back of the mind.

So Republicans all over heaved a sigh of relief Thursday night, believing their chances of succeeding in November can only be improved.

There is a pride among Michiganders in general as well that one of their own has made it to the nation's highest office.

But for Michigan Republicans, the benefits are multiplied even further. They now have a President who is a native son, a popular President at that. Ford's elevation only can lend a new spirit to the party here.

There is a pride among Michiganders in general as well that one of their own has made it to the nation's highest office. It is a bi-partisan pride somewhat akin to having the Tigers win the World Series or a team of Michiganders fly to the moon. And that can't hurt the GOP this fall.

FOR GOV. WILLIAM G. Milliken in particular there should be some benefits, first of all in having a President he is comfortable with. The last time Richard Nixon visited Michigan, Milliken flew to Toronto. On Friday, he dropped his schedule and flew to Washington to be at Ford's swearing in.

It's quite obvious how he feels about the change.

And there may be a more subtle benefit for him as well. After going through two years of Watergate inspired turmoil and finally seeing the nation's leader toppled, Michigan voters may be less inspired to topple other leaders.

Milliken has a comfortable, honest image and voters weary of Watergate and controversy may be more inclined to stick with a comfortable, honest person than try a new governor.

THE SCENE changes in the two Congressional districts where Democrats won special elections this year running against Nixon.

Richard VanderVeen and J. Bob Traxler don't have Nixon to kick around any more. They already have delivered the message voters in their usually Republican districts wanted delivered and now face the danger voters will return to more familiar ways.

The effect probably will be felt much less on down the ticket in legislative and local races, where it really hasn't been a factor thus far.

There was no general anti-incumbent trend in the primary election. The incumbents who lost did so more because their opponents highly were organized than because of any vague anti-incumbent sentiment.

BUT FOR MILLIKEN and other higher level GOP candidates, the future turned brighter Thursday night as the President resigned. Watergate finally was put behind them. For good.

Brickley urged resignation; But now he's sad for Nixon

Enterprise-Roman Lansing Bureau

If anyone in the Michigan Capitol had the right to say, "I told you so," after Richard Nixon resigned the Presidency, it was Lt. Gov. James H. Brickley.

Brickley, perhaps the most candid office holder in the Capitol in recent years, was one of the first to call for the President's resignation months ago.

He caught a lot of grief from other Republicans for his statements, but he didn't back down.

BUT NOW, WHEN he could gloat, he characteristically isn't doing that.

"I am sad for him personally," said Brickley, who isn't running for office this year. "I'm sure it has been a very trying time for him personally."

The lieutenant governor said he doesn't feel any sort of vindication for his beliefs because resignation occurred.

"I felt then I was right and I feel now I was right," he said. "I never felt I needed vindication. I was doing what I felt was right."

BRICKLEY JOINED in the chorus of praise for President Gerald Ford, saying he is "exactly what the country needs. He is as uncomplicated as Nixon is complicated. He has a skill for being open and plain speaking."

The best part about the resignation, is that "the country will be spared any further preoccupation with the Watergate matter," he added. "I am pleased we can return to more normal matters."

But he doesn't feel Watergate was a complete waste because he feels there are lessons for the future in it.

"I have come to a greater appreciation of the constitutional process and the majesty of the Constitution as I have watched the other branches of government move in," he said. "I hope this will be looked on as a great period for constitutional processes."

"MEN COME AND go but the Constitution remains."

He also hopes Americans will take a new look at their leaders in the future.

"We ought to get off some of the hero worship, personality orientation we've been on and become more idea centered," he said. "We've gotten too wrapped up in individuals rather than ideas."

Hart links Nixon's amnesty with that of draft dodgers

Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Mich.) has surprised his colleagues by linking the issue of amnesty for American deserters and draft dodgers with the question of immunity for Richard M. Nixon.

Many congressmen and senators felt that Nixon's resignation as President should end any proceedings against him either in Congress or the courts.

Hart took a different view.

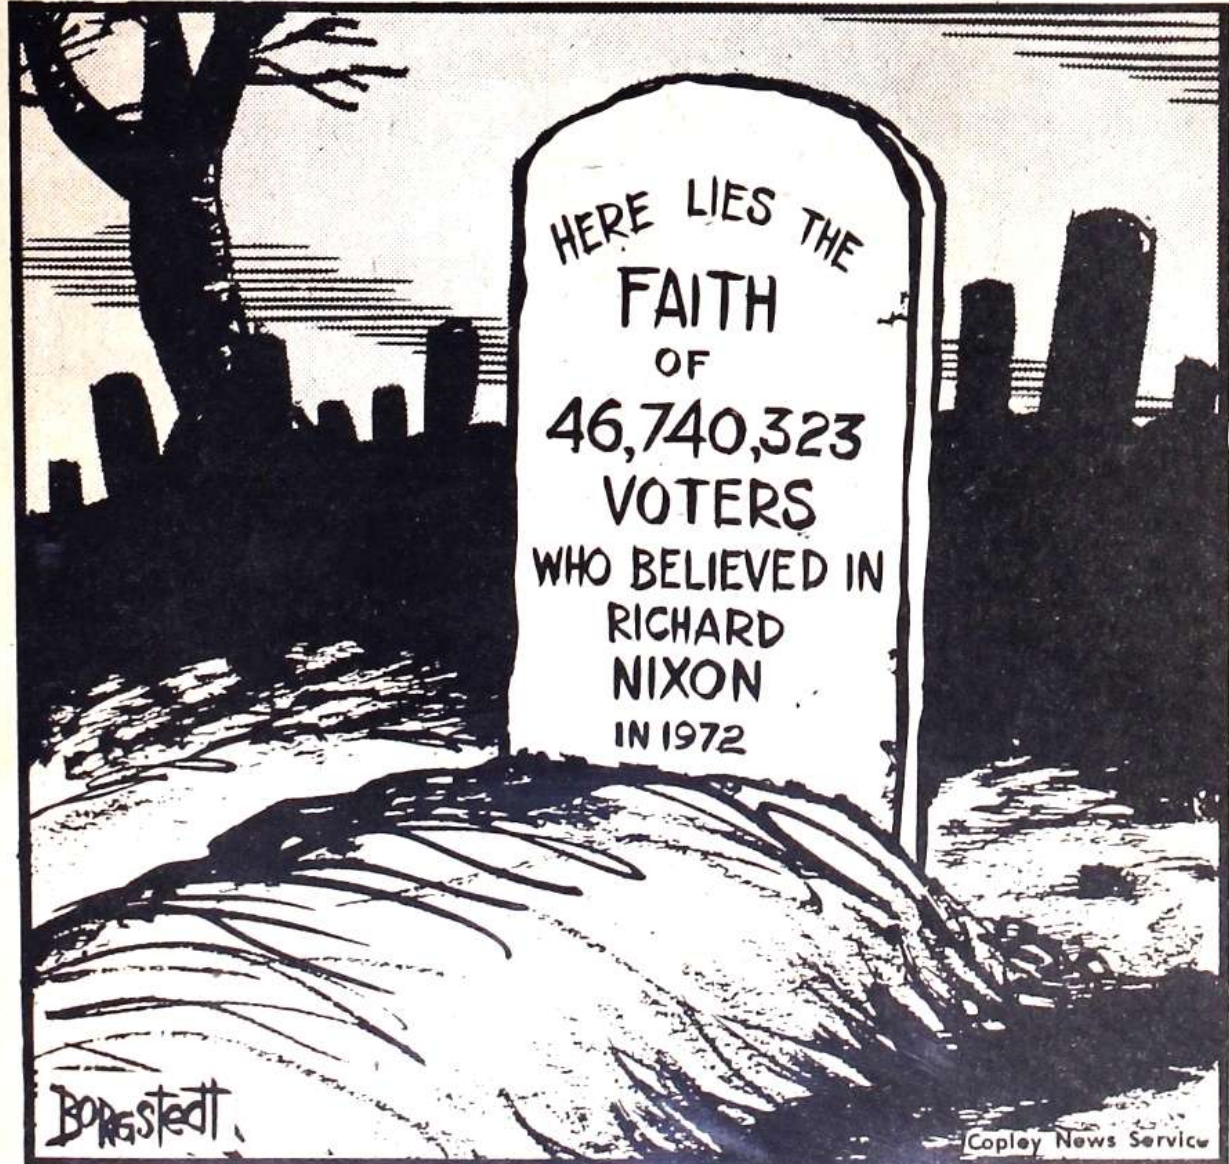

In a speech Thursday on the Senate floor he said:

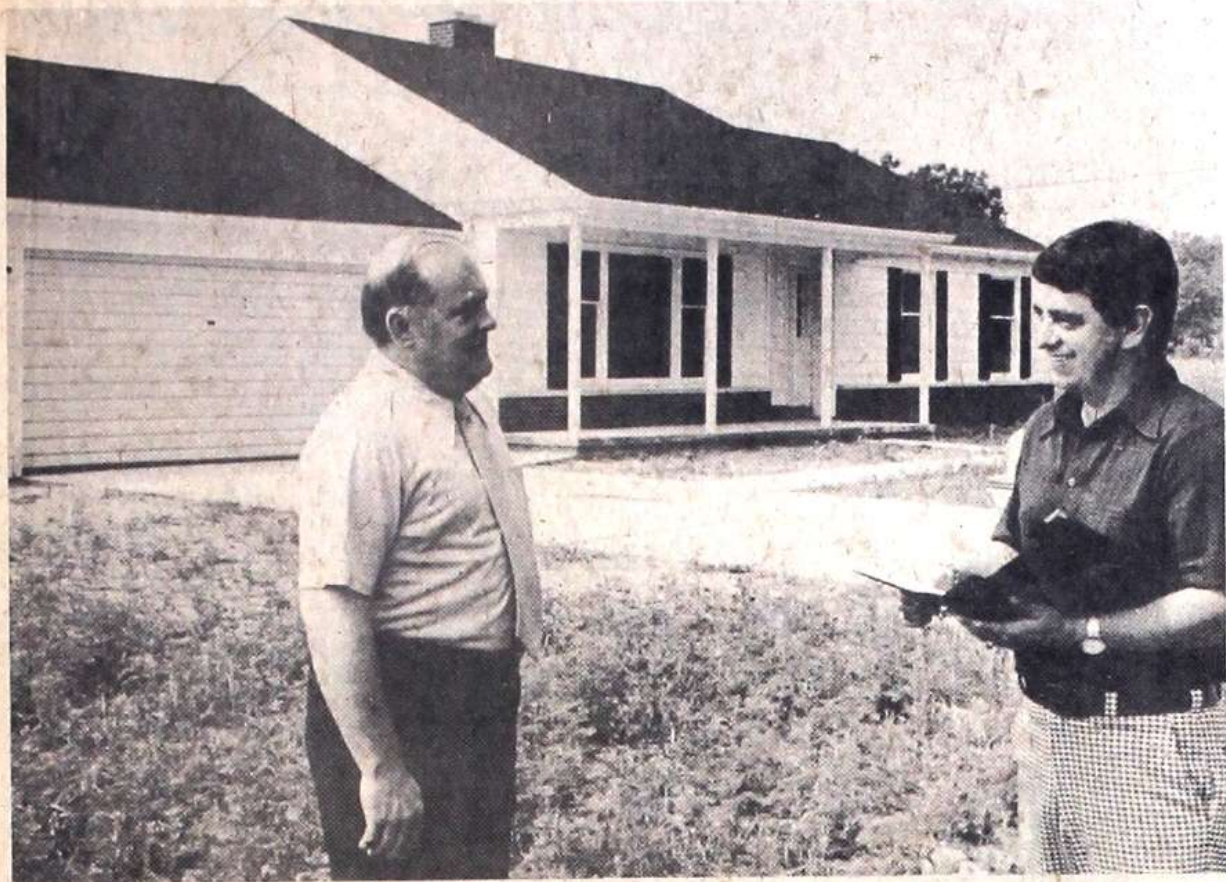

"It is ironic to see such an immunity discussed for Mr. Nixon when we have yet to act on the more obvious case of those men who, compelled by their conscience, choose not to fight in the war in Southeast Asia."

"An amnesty for these men would be consistent with an American tradition of forgetting the deeds of the past when they were acts of conscience. Such a claim of conscience has not and cannot be made by Mr. Nixon in light of recent events."

"I urge my colleagues to consider whether we are to place the one person with more power than any other in our land in a position above the law."

In general election

Domen to back West

Van Buren Township Trustee Fred Domen, 32, who failed in his first bid for the Republican primary nomination for the Michigan House of Representatives 22nd District by a slim margin of eight votes, has announced he will support his former Republican opponent in the upcoming November general election.

Domen, who lives at 7995 Marlowe, Van Buren Township, lost the nomination to Les West, 23, of Ypsilanti, a programmer at a Detroit radio station.

West will battle incumbent Democrat Gary M. Owen in the November election. Owen, 30, also an Ypsilanti resident, is seeking his second 2-year term in the state House.

COMMENTING on his loss, Domen said he felt that "the biggest races" were on the Democratic side of this year's primary and that this led many who otherwise might have voted Republican to vote Democratic.

He also asserted that although he was not "well enough known" to Republican voters in the Ypsilanti area, he was pleased with the support shown in his home community. He added that the closeness of the race indicated to him that both he and West were qualified and so he will support West in the general election.

Owen, who ran unopposed for the Democratic nomination, said he believed the primary vote returns indicated that many Republicans voted Democratic and stated that "in two Ypsilanti Township precincts neither West nor Domen got any votes at all."

Primary vote returns showed that Owen received a vote total of 5,243, West received 587, and Domen got 579 votes.

THE 22ND DISTRICT covers the communities of Belleville, Van Buren and Ypsilanti townships and the City of Ypsilanti, and one precinct area in the City of Romulus.

Van Buren Township voters gave Owen 879 votes; Domen, 326 votes; and West, 159 votes. Belleville returns showed that Owen received 213; Domen, 42; and West, 13 votes.

Student ballet dancers learn style at seminar

A Belleville resident was among the 52 teachers and 177 students who recently received instruction in ballet at the annual Cecchetti Ballet Conference and Seminar at Michigan State University (MSU).

Laurie Steiger of 17287 Haggerty Rd. received instruction from a roster of outstanding ballet teachers from two nations. Included on the teaching staff were Richard Englund, director of the New York City Ballet Repertory Co., and Margaret Marsh of London, England.

Instruction included seven classes or grades of ballet with special attention to the famed Cecchetti method of movement and style.

State approves loan

The Van Buren Public School District has received approval from the Michigan State Municipal Finance Commission to borrow $2,100,000 in tax anticipation notes to meet operating expenses prior to the collection of current taxes.

In issuing its order of approval, the commission, through its chairman Frank J. Kelley, said, "The proceeds will be used to pay operating expenses prior to the collection of current taxes. These notes are dated Aug. 15, 1974, to be due April 1, 1975 and will carry a maximum interest rate of eight per cent annually."

The school district's business manager, Irvin Vondestinon, said the school property tax levy for the 1974-75 school year is due in September. The collection of this tax is made in February.

He added that the $2,100,000 in tax anticipation notes will be used to meet day to day operating expenses including teacher's salaries.

Staffers attend session

A summer treat that's so-o good

Thoughts of hot weather give vent to a host of refreshing, cool ideas in the world of foods. Think of those humid days ahead. Try to keep out of hot kitchens. Easy, convenient foods are the sign of our times; versatility, too, is another "plus" in today's pattern.

Rewarding moments at mealtime often arrive with dessert. After all, it concludes a gathering of the family — or friends, for that matter. With that in mind, one of the cleverest tricks for this time of year is to assemble a collection of really good dessert recipes. In this day of high food prices, a good many of us are serving some of the familiar basics — casseroles and family favorites — to maintain both balanced budgets and nutritious meals. So, it follows that a luscious dessert makes even the simplest meal a memorable one.

"Orange Pineapple Bavarian" is a marvelous dessert that gives the illusion of pure production and lots of time spent. But, that's not the case because it combines the best of two worlds in convenient foods: zesty orange-pineapple gelatin and canned crushed pineapple. A combination hard to beat, it can be enjoyed "family" style in an attractive large serving dish or individual serving dishes. Garnish with mandarin orange sections as a final "trim" to a no fuss or bother dessert.

Swiftly and coolly — that's the key action when you combine fruit flavor gelatin and fruits in heavenly desserts. Keep a good variety of fruit flavor gelatin on your cupboard shelf for those summer fruits which are on their way.

Orange Pineapple Bavarian

- 1 can (16 oz.) crushed pineapple
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 1 package (3 oz.) orange-pineapple flavor gelatin
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup boiling water
- 2 cups prepared whipped topping

Drain pineapple, measuring juice. Add water to juice, if necessary, to make 1 cup. Add sugar to drained pineapple. Dissolve gelatin and salt in boiling water. Add measured liquid, and chill until slightly thickened. Fold in whipped topping and the pineapple. Chill again, if necessary, until mixture will mound. Spoon into serving bowl or individual dessert dishes. Garnish with mandarin orange sections, maraschino cherries, or nuts, if desired. Makes 5 cups or 10 servings.

SWIFT AND COOL — Two prerequisites for summer dining are ease in preparation and coolness in eating. Those two musts are a big selling point for "Orange Pineapple Bavarian" — a real "show-off" dessert.

Luscious and cool, zesty orange-pineapple gelatin and crushed pineapple combine in a dessert reward to look like pure production. Add it to your basic treasury of favorite recipes.

Junk can be profitable

Call it a garage sale, a yard sale, a moving sale, a rummage sale or a basement sale, it's all pretty much the same thing—a concentrated effort to get rid of a lot of accumulated items, "junk" some people call it, and make a profit in the bargain.

And the garage sale bug has bitten dozens of families in the Western Wayne County area.

At a typical garage sale you might find anything from large furniture items and appliances to baby clothes and games. Prices are low and very often garage sale goers can find unusual and useful items.

"You can get a lot of good bargains," said Audrey Gasdorf of Wayne, who recently went in on a 15-family sale. "You have to mark your things cheaply or they won't sell."

Her reason for participating in the garage sale is a typical one.

"People do it to clean out closets and cupboards and get rid of the things you always think you're going to use but never do," she explained.

Because such sales can be found so frequently in nearly every neighborhood, shoppers sometimes travel from garage sale to garage sale, looking for specific items, said Florence Whaley of Wayne.

Mrs. Whaley and her family recently had a yard sale, and several people came looking for items such as cut glass and certain antiques.

One Westland housewife summed up the garage sale phenomena simply by saying, "I think they've gotten more popular recently. I just love 'em."

"I go as often as I possibly can, and find out about them by watching the papers."

Frequently items that are left after sales are taken to the Salvation Army or Good Will, garage sellers agreed.

It may be junk to some people, but the number of garage summer sales in the area attest to one fact—somebody, somewhere, for some reason, may want that junk that's lying in your attic, basement or garage.

And just maybe they'll happen across your garage sale and take it off your hands.

All Around the Town

...with Lee

Reunion's are for reminiscing--

Close to 100 persons, all descendants of the late George and Belle Sears, arrived at the E. Huron River Drive home of the Charles Cooks Aug. 4 for the 33rd annual Sears family reunion.

Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor, Jackson, Detroit, Mr. Clemens, Livonia, Flat Rock, New Boston and Belleville as well as Ashland, Ky. were cities represented at the get-together.

Plenty of food and drink were provided by each family as the group shared dinner in the host's garden. Sally Brooks, who was unable to attend, wired an arrangement of red roses from Corona, Calif. for her family to enjoy. Games for the younger set and bingo for their elders made up part of the day with lots of reminiscing thrown in.

And, despite the drop in the nation's birth rate, the clan chalked up three more branches on the family tree.

--And so are 'hen parties'

And lest I get chastised for that title, let me quickly point out that the group of gals I'm about to write about were a bunch of young chicks when their meetings first began. (It's just that "hen parties" makes a heckuva lot more sense than "chick parties.")

It was Margery Ford who decided to gather her old friends together recently for a bit of "remembering when" at her home on Elwell Road. It seems this particular set of gals once belonged to the W.S.C.S. evening circle of the local Methodist Church and after meeting regularly for years and years sort of disbanded.

The octette Marge invited back were all her Elwell Road neighbors — Virginia Turney, Rachel Wilson, Verdys Shephard, Jo Frey, and Martha Dicks and Alice Farr, now of Ypsilanti. Two others from the circuit, Leota Schweigert and Ruth Bleeker, were included as well.

Other than a yummy, fattening dessert, there were no definite plans for the afternoon but rehashing old times and catching up on each others' families more than filled the bill.

Former residents fill us in

Received a nice note from Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio last week from former Belleville residents, Dean and Nancy Erhart, who like to keep their ex-neighbors and friends up to date on their activities.

Since they've had so many guests from Michigan lately, they decided to share the pleasure with others. Dean's brother Dennis, his wife Linda and daughter Dena were with the Erharts for a couple days and filled them in on what's new (and what's missing due to urban renewal) in Belleville.

Friends from Milan, Gordon and Carolyn Burlingame, were also among recent houseguests who treated Dean and Nancy to steak and lobster at their town's Brown Derby. The following day the foursome drove to Sea World in Huron. This week Nancy is expecting her friend, Lynn Stigleman, from Dexter.

As for next YEAR — which the Erharts thought was all settled — it's now "who knows?" since Dean was offered a transfer to Hawaii. Since the couple had already made plans for a move and job change in California, it now leaves "something to think about," Nancy says.

Donna Kay Pruitt is August bride

Double ring vows were exchanged Aug. 3 between Donna Kay Pruitt and Edward Alan Gohl, both of Belleville. The 3 p.m. ceremony at Trinity Baptist Church in Ypsilanti was conducted by Pastor Stanley Lightfoot before some 70 assembled relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Pruitt of 201 Belle Villa, Belleville, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Sharpe of 8701 Belleville Rd., Belleville, are parents of the young couple.

White gladiolas and yellow daisies adorned the altar as Donna approached on the arm of her father. For her wedding day, she wore a white gown designed with a high neckline and long sleeves. Her veil was secured by a coronet of white daisies and her bouquet was comprised of daisies and baby's breath.

AS HER sister's honor attendant, Linda Stewart donned a yellow and white gown and matching hat. A bouquet of yellow and white daisies and baby's breath completed her ensemble. Charles Gohl of Belleville

Luanne Smith on dean's list at K. College

A Belleville resident was one of 201 students named to the dean's list at Kalamazoo College at the close of the spring quarter, having earned a grade point average of at least 3.5 out of 4.0 possible points.

Luanne Smith, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert G. Smith of 41435 Edison Lake Rd. was among the students named for academic excellence.

Westland is new home for newly wed Kortzs

Following a five-day honeymoon in Las Vegas, Nev., the newly wed Larry Kortz took up residence in Westland at 6501 Yale.

Stephanie Lewkowicz became Mrs. Larry David Kortz in a July 6 ceremony at St. Aloysius Catholic Church in Romulus. Their double ring vows were repeated before the Rev. Joseph Kemosek at 4 p.m.

Music during the ceremony included "The Wedding Song", "We've Only Just Begun" and "Theme from Love Story".

THE BRIDE is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Lewkowicz of 36723 Grant Rd., Romulus. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kortz of 35132 Dumbarton, Mt. Clemens, are parents of the bridegroom.

A bouquet of white carnations, stephanotis and baby's breath complimented the bride's gown which was designed in the princess silhouette mode. The double organza dress, accented with Swiss guipure lace, featured a high sheer yoke, long fitted sleeves and a chapel train.

Her illusion veil, which drifted to cathedral length, was caught to a Camelot headpiece of Venice lace with lace detailing framing the face.

Mary Ellen Lewkowicz of Romulus, the bride's younger sister, wore a dress of apricot chiffon for her role as maid of honor. Patterned along empire lines, the toe-touching gown was designed with a flounced hemline, spaghetti-strap bodice and removable cape. Matching apricot ribbon encircled her wide-brimmed picture hat and a white basket filled with white and apricot-tipped carnations completed her ensemble.

BRIDESMAIDS in identical costumes were the bride's two cousins, Julie Immel of Westland and Kathy Rutyna of Detroit.

The bridegroom chose his brother, Brian Kortz of Mt. Clemens, to serve as best man. Michael Lewkowicz, the bride's brother, flew in from his U.S. Army post in Italy to be in the wedding party. Another brother, Mark Lewkowicz of Romulus, also ushered.

Roma Hall in Garden City was reserved for the reception.

Things are happening in the automotive world

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Enterprise-Roman Auto Writer

Residents interested in learning how an automobile is assembled have that opportunity at the world's largest automobile manufacturing plant - Ford Motor Co.'s Rouge Assembly Plant.

The Ford Motor Co. recently opened a new guest center on Village Road between Southfield Road and Oakwood Boulevard near Greenfield Village as it's first tourist center since the Ford Rotunda burned in November 1962.

The new tourist center will feature displays and exhibits, and will be the starting point for tours of the Rouge plant.

TOURS LEAVE weekdays on the half hour between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. Starting in September, they will leave on the hour weekdays.

American Motors Corp. (AMC) stands alone as the domestic automobile producer to report an increase in profits and earnings during 1974 — the year of the energy crunch.

AMC reported last week that earnings for its third quarter of operations were up $2.1 million from 1973, or at $19 million.

The earnings mean approximately 62 cents per share profit for stockholders of the corporation, compared to 61 cents per share in 1973.

THE OTHER three auto manufacturers have reported drops in earnings for the same quarter, and reported losses in earnings every quarter of 1974 from the 1973 record sales and earnings year.

The Buick Division of General Motors Corp. (GM) may be leading the way out of the automobile industry's production slump.

Buick delivered 43,897 new cars during July - a five per cent increase over the number delivered during the record July 1973 model year.

TIME TO PRESERVE—Tomatoes offer a tempting treat whether fresh or canned, and now is the time to take advantage of bargains such as the supermarket. However, canners or those using freezers in home food storage should make sure everything is in working order and done according to directions to avoid spoilage or poisoning.

From bad food

Freezer check avoids harm

Home and Garden

Home canning and freezing enthusiasts are turning their attention toward the Michigan State Fair, set for later this month, when fellow home food preparation fans will learn who is the best in their edible specialties.

However, with the worry of potential food poisoning in preparing some foods in the home for storage, a few tips on what will bring the safest and best results always are welcome.

Before stocking your home freezer, make sure it actually freezes. Food Inspection officials of the Michigan Department of Agriculture (MDA) said freezer temperatures should be set at 0 degrees Fahrenheit or lower for best results. Food held at 15 degrees may feel solid but is less firmly frozen than food at the lower temperature. When held the same length of time, the more firmly frozen food will be superior in color, flavor and texture.

YOU CAN CHECK your freezer temperature with a freezer or outdoor thermometer. As a rule of thumb, if it can't keep ice cream brick solid, the temperature is above the recommended level.

To get the greatest use out of your freezer and reduce operating cost per pound of food, MDA officials recommend you keep it fully stocked and maintain a rapid rate of turnover, at least every six months.

When using a seasonal plan you are more likely to meet your family's needs and preferences. Food will have better flavor and food value, if not held for the maximum storage period.

Stretch food dollars by buying fruits and vegetables now, at the peak of Michigan's growing season. Most quality fruits and vegetables may be frozen from 8 to 12 months in moisture-proof materials such as aluminum foil, polyethylene bags, freezer film wrap, and plastic freezer containers.

BUY FRESH beef, pork and poultry in quantity when specials are offered by area supermarkets. Approximate storage time at 0 degrees varies for different cuts, so it's best to check reliable freezer storage chart for guidelines. Ever wonder what to do if your freezer stops running?

MDA officials said not to panic, find the cause. There is no need to worry if the freezer will be running again within a few hours but you should keep the freezer door tightly closed.

If the freezer will be off for some time, try to estimate how long food will stay frozen. Generally, food will stay frozen in a fully loaded cabinet for about two days; a half full cabinet, not more than one day. Much depends on how well the freezer is insulated. Temperature and size of freezer are important factors.

Fresh herb garden livens up fresh or frozen food's taste

Frozen or canned foods may smell heavenly when prepared, but a dash of fresh chopped chives can turn the trick every time.

If you like the flavor of the fresh herb and want to add a dash of green to a kitchen or vacant nook, why not try growing chives in the home.

Chives is one of the perennial herbs that grow easily in a planter, a corner of the garden or in a pot on a kitchen window sill, said an extension hor-culture specialist at Michigan State University (MSU).

GARLIC, CHIVES, mint, lemon balm, borage, oregano, rosemary, sage, tarragon and thyme are other easy-to-grow favorites.

Whether your herb patch is in containers or in the garden, plenty of sunlight and well-drained soil are musts. Herbs that are cut often require occasional fertilization. Avoid overfertilization, however. Too much nitrogen causes some plants to lose their characteristic flavor and aroma.

Because fresh herbs are more pungent than the dried ones you get at the supermarket, a little goes a long way. Three or four plants of most herbs should be enough to keep you well supplied.

For fresh herbs all winter, start new plants from cuttings and transplant them into pots.

And decorations

Pots sprout edibles

Of all the vegetables suitable for growing in containers, tomatoes are one of the most successful, and in recent years several especially good varieties have been introduced. Among the most popular are Tiny Tim, Small Fry, Patio and Pixie.

Tiny Tim is the most versatile, growing miniature 4-inch diameter scarlet red fruits that taste good and mature quickly. Plants grow only 15 inches tall.

Small Fry hybrid, an All-American winner, is a heavy yielding variety with disease resistance, growing 1-inch diameter, fine-tasting fruit. Pixie hybrid is claimed to be the fastest-ripening of all small-fruited varieties, and Patio hybrid has the advantage of growing medium-size fruit on compact, upright vines. It was developed especially for growing in tubs. Related to tomatoes are peppers, and these also make fine container plants. Two outstanding varieties are California Wonder and Bell Boy, an All-American winner. As the fruits mature they turn from green to brilliant red, adding a decorative effect. It's possible also to obtain yellow-fruited varieties, and the two kinds planted near each other can look especially attractive.

For gardening in containers you can buy a soil substitute, or synthetic soil, made from a mixture of horticultural vermiculite, peat moss, and fertilizer. This mixture generally is available from seed dealers and garden supply centers, and comes ready to use. For mini gardens in containers it has several advantages over common soil. It is free from disease, and weed seeds, holds moisture and plant nutrients well, and it is light-weight.

Improper canning creates botulism

If you are not using a pressure canner to process green beans and other low-acid vegetables, you are playing with poison, warns an extension foods and nutrition specialist at Michigan State University.

The poison is botulism, the rarest and most deadly form of food poisoning. More often than not, the source of the poison is inadequately or improperly processed home-canned vegetables.

The organism that produces the poison that causes botulism is found almost everywhere in nature. It lives on dead and decaying organic matter and thrives in tightly sealed, oxygen-free jars of low-acid foods that have not been processed properly.

Proper processing means using a pressure canner. "It cannot be emphasized enough," the expert said, "the hot water bath method of canning will not kill the botulism spores. No matter how long you leave jars of food in a hot water bath, they will never get hotter than the boiling point of water, and that just isn't hot enough to kill the botulism organisms before the quality of the food becomes unacceptable."

With a pressure canner, however, you can raise the temperature to 240 degrees. This will kill any of the dangerous organisms that may be present.

"All low-acid vegetables must be processed in a pressure canner," she advises. "This means all vegetables except tomatoes. Tomatoes, fruits and pickled fruits and vegetables are acidic, and the botulism bacteria can't live and grow in an acid environment."

Gardens require mulch

Beginner gardeners often wonder what is meant by "mulching" and what purpose it serves. Mulch is a covering of material such as straw, grass clippings or shredded leaves placed on the ground around plants, to serve several useful functions. First it smothers weeds. Second it prevents moisture in the soil from evaporating. Third, it warms the soil and keeps it at an even temperature for roots to grow better, and fourth it helps to keep fruit clean such as beans and tomatoes.

Lima beans get title of U.S. best bargain

The modern bush lima bean easily could claim distinction as America's biggest bargain. The most popular bush lima bean grown today is the famous Fordhook Lima Bean, growing regular-size lima beans on short, bushy plants which require no staking. How many people realize, however, that when the forerunner to the Fordhook Lima Bean was first introduced 80 years ago, it sold at a packet price of 75 cents for four beans. What's more, it was a sell-out success. The grower sold all he had. Today, 80 years later, you can buy the same kind of beans at a cost of 35 cents for 50 beans. That's about 25 times cheaper than they were 80 years ago. How many other products today could make the same kind of claim?

BUSH LIMAS are a worthwhile crop for home gardens, since the beans are extra large, meaty, and the kind to eat as "butter beans." Limas should be planted well after danger of frost in a fertile soil preferably during a warm dry spell since the beans will rot, if cold and wet conditions persist. They require a longer growing season than regular green beans — about 75 days. Pole limas take about two weeks longer.

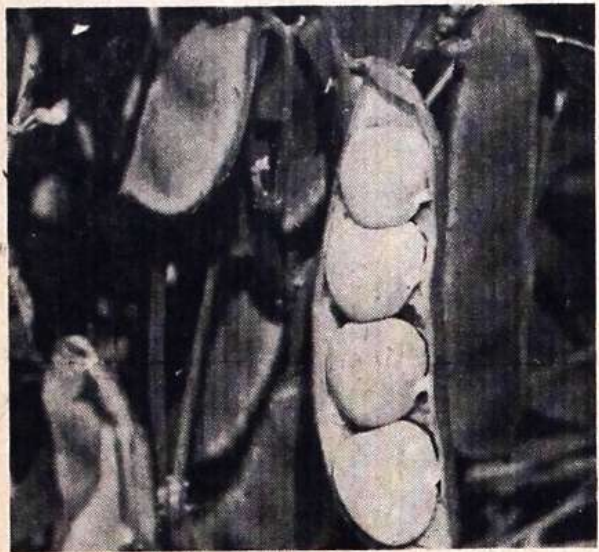

When freshly cooked they have a whitish green tint and make a delicious meal. Also, the pods can be left to dry and stored for use during winter as "butter beans."

Planting should be in full sun with no shade in any part of the day. To get a good stand, the seeds can be sown close together, 3 inches apart, but thinned to 9 inches apart, with two feet between rows.

During dry periods they should be watered heavily, and in order to conserve moisture in the soil some form of mulch, such as straw or grass clippings, is helpful.

POLE LIMAS need much more room and are capable of reaching unbelievable heights of as much as 50 feet. However, 10 foot poles in tripod fashion normally are adequate, setting six to eight seeds around each pole.

It's quite an experience to sit down to your first meal of bush lima beans and to realize that if you had been a gardener 80 years ago, each bean was worth nearly 20 cents, and a mouthful could well represent $1. In this world of rampant inflation, it is some comfort to realize what a bargain seeds really are.

BIGGEST BARGAIN — Eighty years ago a mouthful of lima beans represented $1, but today the bean has become one of the country's biggest bargains as a fresh vegetable. A tempting delight whether fresh or stored, today's lima beans cost 25 times less than they did almost a century ago.

Cherry canning maintains fruit

With the fresh fruit season well on its way, home canning enthusiasts may want to try their hand at cherries, guaranteeing a supply of the tart delights for pies throughout the winter months or some tender, sweet goodies for desert foods.

Sweet cherries should be bought firm, be juicy and have a well-developed flavor. Cherries should never be stored for more than a few days, since they are poor keepers.

To raw pack cherries for storage, fill jars to 1/2-inch from the top with freshly washed cherries. For a full pack, shake cherries down while filling the jar. Cover with a boiling syrup, leaving a 1/2-inch space at the top.

TO HOT PACK cherries, wash them, then add 1/2 cup sugar to each quart of fruit. Add a little water to unpitted cherries to keep them from sticking while heating. Cover pan and bring to a boil.

Pack the hot cherries in glass jars to 1/2 inch from top. In freezing the fruit, stem, wash and sort cherries thoroughly. The cherries will be served uncooked, a syrup pack is best. However, a sugar pack is preferable for fruit being stored for pies and other cooked products.

A syrup pack is made of seven cups of sugar for every four cups of water. The sugar can be increased to 8 3/4 cups, depending on the tartness. Fill jars and leave head space. Close bags and freeze.

TO SUGAR PACK mix one quart of cherries with 3/4 cup of sugar. Pack into containers, leaving space. Close and freeze. Be sure the sugar is dissolved before freezing.

For sweet cherries, pack into containers and add a 40 per cent cold syrup. The syrup is made from 3 cups sugar for every four cups of water. Add 1/2 teaspoon of crystalline ascorbic acid.

In mixing sweet and sour cherries, pack the fruit in 50 per cent syrup, made of 4 3/4 cups sugar for each four cups of water.

Insect's sting could be lethal

Although a garden might look tempting with its ripe vegetables, Western Wayne County residents should use care in harvesting their crops.

The vegetables may welcome the picking, but small insects may offer gardeners a sting or two when their comfortable leafy homes are disturbed.

What you don't know about insects can kill you.

MEDICAL AUTHORITIES stress the importance of knowing whether you are allergic to insects that bite. Trouble is many people don't know.

A study of several thousand insect bites by the American Academy of Allergy shows that half of those suffering severe reactions didn't know they were susceptible to insect venom.

Actually, no one knows the exact toll in lives because sudden death in a garden or while outside may be attributed to heart attack without further medical investigation.

THE FIRST danger sign that a sting may cause severe problems may be shortness of breath, palpitations of the heart, inflammation of the affected area.

Of course, most people only have a mild reaction, a little localized swelling, perhaps. However, a person with any unusual reaction should seek or go immediately to a doctor or hospital for emergency treatment.

If he is aware of his allergy, he should carry the proper medication with him when exposed to insects.

But how do you protect yourself if you're stung?

THE FIRST THING is to find the stinger that may have been left in you.

If it's there, beware. Don't pull it out. It contains a sac of venom, and the more pressure you apply, the more this poison seeps into your body.

Your best approach is to scrape it out with your fingernail, or a sharp instrument. Then thoroughly wash the wound to avoid infection. Apply ice or cold compress, if possible.

For the tick, apply a drop of mineral oil, gasoline or kerosene to it. This relaxes it. Then it can be removed with a tweezers. Here, too, the wound must be thoroughly cleaned.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

HAROLD REDISKI, HAROLD REDISKI, JR. — DIRECTORS —

It has been said life is a game. And indeed it is. Everybody in the world MUST play it. But it can only be played in solitary manner. You have to play it by yourself. No one else can play your game for you.

As in all games, you have a choice in how to play it. You can play it honestly or dishonestly. With optimism or fear. With confidence or doubt. With faith or infidelity.

When you look at it this way, life can be a simple game to play. Look around. See how other people play the game. When you do this, you will always see how honesty, optimism, confidence and faith remove hazards from the game. You will also see how dishonesty, fear, doubt and infidelity create obstacles to deny people a winning ticket of achievement, satisfaction, contentment and happiness. Invariably the big winners are those who play by the "Book" — of rules.

Restaurant rezoning gets recommendation

The rezoning of a 2-lot land parcel to permit the construction of a new Big Boy Restaurant in Van Buren Township has been recommended by the Van Buren Township Planning Commission.

The planning commission recommended approval of the rezoning following a recent presentation of site plans for the new restaurant. Final decision is up to the township board of trustees.

The proposed restaurant is slated to be built on Belleville Road just north of I-94. The land parcel is zoned single-family. The Big Boy Restaurant chain is seeking a change to general business.

In other business at a recent meeting, the planning commission deferred formal action on site plan approval for a proposed Marathon Oil Service Station at the intersection of Haggerty Road and I-94.

The commission tabled action on the firm's site plan approval request to permit a hearing before the zoning board of appeals on a zone variance.

Bill calls for elimination of state's railroad hazards

A bill to create a $5 million fund for the elimination of hazardous railroad crossings in the state will be introduced by State Rep. Gary M. Owen (D-Ypsilanti) according to an announcement made recently by the state legislator.

In commenting on his proposed bill, Owen said: "We hope to establish a fund of about $5 million that would be administered by the two appropriations committees to handle dangerous railroad crossings throughout the state and provide proper funding for new crossings where they are needed."

He added that present estimates say "literally thousands of railroad crossings in Michigan are not receiving proper attention."

Owen said the problem is aggravated because of the inability of "financially troubled" railroads to maintain crossings and equip them with proper safety devices.

Rep. Owen represents the 22nd District, including the communities of Belleville, Ypsilanti, Van Buren and Ypsilanti townships and part of Romulus.

Second annexation hearing is scheduled for Lansing body

The second public hearing scheduled by the Michigan State Boundary Commission on a requested annexation of 41 acres of Van Buren Township land to the City of Belleville will be held in the conference room of the Treasury Building in Lansing on Sept. 18.

The supplemental hearing on the proposed annexation, to begin at 1:30 p.m., will give the residents of the Belleville-Van Buren Township area an opportunity to contribute information and testimony on the proposed annexation.

HYDE SAID that several options on the proposal are open. The commission can deny the petition, approve it as submitted or approve it with boundary adjustments.

At the July 31 session of the boundary commission, when the commission was scheduled to adjudicate the matter of the proposed annexation, the 5-member commission decided to hold a second public meeting to get more information.

The annexation petition was filed by Dearborn Builders, a division of Seligman Associates of Southfield, land developers.

Van Buren Township Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer and other members of the Van Buren Township Board of Trustees are objecting to the proposal.

THE LAND INVOLVED in the annexation bid is located on the south side of Huron River Drive, west of Belleville High School.

Dearborn Builders is seeking to rezone the land to permit a denser single-family development or multiple units in the area.

Bidding is open

Bid proposals for a 30-yard capacity back-packer rubbish truck and alternate bid proposals for two trucks have been requested by Van Buren Township administration.

Specifications for the vehicles desired by the township are available at the township office, 46425 Tyler Rd. Bids must be in the clerk's office not later than 5 p.m. Tuesday.

Upsets launch playoffs

Romulus gals have tourney fever

Softball tournaments apparently are just what the Bulls needed to get started on the winning track. The ailing contingent, which didn't win a single contest during the regular Romulus Parks and Recreation's women's softball season, pulled an upset. And the victims were the Red Hots, whom the Bulls cooled 10-9. Romulus' Ladies Softball League, after completing its regular season play, started their tournaments on Saturday.

The Bulls, who hadn't won a game in regular season play, moved past the Red Hots 10-9, to get into the semifinals of tournament play. Bulls took the lead in the seventh inning when Pat Kuczycki's double scored the eventual winning run. The clincher came when pitcher, Carol Johnson scooped up a grounder and threw to Carol Fehmie at third who tagged the Red Hot runner for the final out of the game. Joyce McLeod and Carol Skura had perfect four for four records with Donna Ruppel adding a double and two singles. TOP HITTERS for the Red Hots were Allison Ziemowicz, three singles and one double, Cindy Summers, four singles and a double, and Audry Johnston, with two double and two singles. The Bottoms-Up came out on top of a close scoring game with the Electric Warriors 17-15 as Diana Kampen smacked a home run and four hits with Peggy Summerfield and Sylvia Dubisky also getting four hits each on the day. Top honors for the Electric Warriors went to Paye Lombardi who drilled back-to-back homers and scored seven RBIs.

Nancy Verduco also homered with Margaret Ayers collecting three singles, Mary Sue, a single and a double with Sandy Cook and Pat Suksi each adding two singles. DEBBIE SHALLOW homered and drove in three runs, but to no avail as the Denim Dolls lost to the Swiners 20-7. Martha Bowen and Lynne Montgomery each doubled for the losers. The Dolls' defensive was just not strong enough to stop the Swingers as Denise Hadyniak stroked two home runs, one a grand slam, with Mickey Jordan and Eunice Curry adding another home run each. Linda Curry, Cindy Maziariski, Barb Wise and Debbie Vickstrom completed the attack with four hits apiece. In another tough game, the Seekers were routed by the Foul Balls, 22-14. Phoebe McIsaac sparked the winners with a grand slam home run with Darlene May adding two more home runs. Debbie and Betty Drury each collected a home run for the ill-fated Seekers. In another close one, the Tarantulas managed to squeeze by the New Streakers, 12-10. Dixie Cobb and Mary Dziedzic homered with Elaine Antonicola adding four hits and Denise Gabany three hits for the winners. Anna Claxton led the attack for the New Streakers with a home run and a single. Cindy Stewart, Yvonne Randall, Mary Karbowski, and Bess Lankford each collected three hits. Gerte Szyndlar sparked the team defensively and added two hits. The Thumpers lost to the Airline Bombers on a forfeit. Kid Power came out on top again as they powered past the Kel-Joys 20-4. Top bats for the winners were Theresa Gibson, three home runs and three hits, Tareia Gray, one home run and four hits, and Priscilla Gray, one homer and four hits. The Odyssey of 2001 succumbed to the Odd Squad, 12-2. Hits by Ann and Audrey Szyndlar, Pat Worden, Cindy Drobel, and Carol Kasmer who each collected two on the day were just not enough for 2001. The spark of Sharon Howie's two hits and one home run could not rally the team.

UNDEFEATED HEAVYWEIGHT — Al Migliorato expects to make John L. Johnson wish he never came north to enter the same ring with him tonight when the two heavyweight boxers clash at the Ford Arena, located on Farmington Rd. in Livonia. Migliorato, who weighs in at 200 pounds, has a string of 22 victories and 21 of those are via knockouts. At 24, he's being touted as the "Clown Prince" of the heavyweight division and is so tagged because of his colorful antics in the ring. Along with the main bout of Migliorato vs. Johnson, there is a seven bout card which is scheduled to get underway at 8 p.m.

A case of appendicitis

By TOM MOORADIAN

Tom Baldwin, the 24-year-old Romulus High football coach, was to take a group of his football players up to Irish Hills yesterday for a five-day "skull session."

But, instead, the rookie coach wound up on the operating table at Ann Arbor St. Joe's Hospital. The medics floored Baldwin by taking out his appendix.

So, the anticipated, long-awaited trip to the scenic Irish Hills didn't materialize for the new coach, instead he got waited on by a flock of pretty nurses.

"I REALLY feel lucky," said Baldwin via telephone yesterday. "What if this happened during the football season? Boy, would I have felt bad."

"Now, at least, I got the appendectomy out of the way and can concentrate on the season."

The trip north wasn't wiped out, though, for the players. Assistant coaches Fred Coleman and Dan Campbell accompanied the varsity players to camp where they will "get to know one another."

Meanwhile, Tom, get well. No way is Romulus going to rebound from a 1-8 won-lost season without your adrenalin.

It's no secret that high school football is probably the biggest money-maker on the prep athletic scene.

And, some of the area coaches believe it's about time that prep football got the recognition it deserves. That recognition will come this season in the form of a state playoff Tournament to determine a state champ.

Like they do in most of the other high school sports.

"I really believe it's about time football joined the ranks of the other sports and received statewide recognition, recognition it deserves," said Floyd Carter, Wayne Memorial's head football coach.

Carter seems to express the sympathy of his colleagues.

"GAMES LIKE BASKETBALL and baseball and track - all have state champs," continued Carter, "and, for the first time the Michigan High School Athletic Association is moving in the direction of a state tournament for football." Actually, this year will be a "paper playoff."

The proposed playoff system is based on awarding points to teams for victories, allowing for a greater amount of merits a team can beat a Class A team. At the end of the regular season, teams with the most points would get a shot at regional titles.

Four teams would be drafted from the regionals to play for the state championship in each of the four classes (A, B, C and D.)

However, this proposed system has a lot of loopholes and inequities according to Coach Carter.

"WE'RE IN REGIONAL II where there are about 50 Class A teams. Who is going to determine which of the 50 will represent the regional if, for example, four or five super powers emerge from the area?"

Carter suggests extending the high school football season by one or two weeks and letting regionals have playoffs, as in basketball.

But that immediately would cause controversy and create flack between football and basketball coaches. The grid season could overlap into the basketball season and many of the prep athletes play both sports. They would be late in getting into shape for basketball.

Carter would have football start the first week of school. He foresees no problem because most coaches have a year around program to keep their players in shape, and would be ready to play if the MHSAA gave the approval.

But, whatever the problems and obstacles, Carter feels the proposed state championships are a "good thing for prep football."

Commercial Carriers are crowned champion

FUTURE BIG LEAGUER — Though he played on Romulus' Commercial Carriers in the Senior Little League, Steve Hutchinson proved he has big league potential by carving out a .409 batting average to lead his team to the championship.

There's a new champ in the Romulus Senior Little League Baseball world. And it's the Commercial Carriers. The pitching combination of Gary Williams and Mike Marsiglia, along with the hitting of Steve Hutchinson and Wayne Osborne were enough for Commercial Carriers to win the 1974 Championship. The champs posted a 10-2 win-loss mark. "Pitching was the key this year," Manager Barry Baumann said. "I knew the team could count on pitcher Mike Marsiglia, but Gary Williams was the question mark and he did come through." Combined, Williams and Marsiglia allowed only 31 runs for 12 games, gave up 42 hits, and struck out almost 100 in the same span. Marsiglia struck out 55 himself, averaging almost two per inning pitched. The team offensive punch was provided by Steve Hutchinson who batted .409, Wayne Osborne who batted a .308 clip, and Mike Sirhan at .292. "Wayne was a consistent player, we could count on a hit or two every game," Baumann said. "Whereas Steve and Mike were just the opposite. Mike started the year like a ball of fire, but simmered down

Belleville champ eyes revenge

Can the Belleville Teachers do it again? That's the question that's buzzing around the Belleville Softball League which crowned Blue Boar Inn as champ for the third consecutive year last week. But, not before the teachers slashed the champs' 17 game winning streak. Blue Boar Inn will be out for revenge while the teachers will try to prove their victory was no fluke when the two arch-rivals meet in the first round of the play best of three playoffs which got underway this week. ALSO PAIRED are second place PLAV who has the "Ducks" on their minds. The two teams also are locked in a best of three series and the winners will emerge to take on the winner of the Belleville Teachers and Blue Boar Inn series. Meanwhile, Blue Boar Inn wrapped up the year with regular season with a pair of victories, fattening their record to 20-1 on the season. The champs amassed six more wins than their nearest rivals, PLAV, who finished in a second place tie with the Belleville Teachers. The rumormongers had 14-7 records. The Ducks managed to get into the playoffs by virtue of a 11-10 over-all record.

By TOM MOORADIAN

"YOU KNOW IT WILL take the selection of the state champs out of the hands of the newspapers, sports editors and sportscasters for one thing, and for another it also will give a coach a chance to rest his first stringers once the outcome of the game is decided."

In the past some coaches would deliberately run up the score in order to look good in the rating.

First runs are always interesting, and the "paper playoff" will be no exception.

It would be ironic, though, if one of the local teams should emerge on top of the point-system - it would be the first state high school football champ - on paper.

Paul Foley, an alumnus of Wayne St. Mary's High - yes, St. Mary's was high school once upon a time - is probably the most traveled person I know.

The good-looking copter mechanic has been all over the world and has many a tale to tell. And I think our friends over at the Detroit Race Course and Hazel Park would be interested in Foley's latest adventure.

That adventure occurred in Tehran, Iran where Paul is fixing up some of the Shah's planes. Let's let Paul tell his story:

"Four of us went out to the opening day thoroughbred races here. We were a small group which included Texans.

The track looked good from a distance but upon close inspection it had large rocks and more gravel than turf. There is no grass, fountain, or even a tote board in the infield, so you can see clearly from the ground level.

The "club house," if you can call it that, is a 20 foot by 20 foot block building that was overcrowded and smoke filled. There is no such thing as order here, so the fight to get a bet down at one of the ten windows is a unique adventure, to say the least.

When I finally won, it was the last race, everyone in our party was for throwing the winning tickets away instead of fighting the other winners at the payoff windows.

So, enclosed you'll find a few tickets, including the winning ones. If you ever get to Tehran you'll at least have some pocket money to spend at your favorite drinking spot.

Oh, by the way, to give the people here their due they do have some of the finest looking race horses I've ever seen.

Dear Man in Iran,

Instead of sending me those worthless winning tickets, couldn't you convince one of the shah's pals to mail me an oil tanker or something?

DRC and Hazel Park are having excellent seasons and are very eager for your money, so if you can pull yourself away from Tehran for a couple of days I'm sure I can get Earl Flora at the Wolverine Raceway to give us a couple of courtesy passes.

And, believe me, if I ever have a winning ticket I won't mail it across a couple of continents.

AND, ON THE LOCAL sports scene, Paul, the Detroit Tigers are having their problems keeping their heads over the 500 mark this season. They're seven games behind Eastern Division leader, Boston.

It looks like things will get worse for Manager Ralph Houk's minions before they'll get better.

Oh, yes, the Pontiac Lions, nee Detroit Lions, played their first exhibition game of the season and dropped a 20-12 decision to the Kansas City Royals.

The Lions losing isn't news, you know, but they're in the midst of a strike and the veterans refuse to play until they get something they call "freedom," and that's news.

Translated, Paul, it means the players want more dough and the National Football League owners refuse to dig further into their pockets.

That helps the Wheels.

Who are the Wheels, you say? Well, they're the latest "thing" in p. o football. You see some guys with a lot of dough - but not more than those oil sheiks over there - have banded together and created the World Football League.

Detroit's franchise is called the Wheels. Some people I know call them by other names and I can't tell you what the NFL owners call the WFL teams. The Wheels haven't won a game in their four outings.

So, you're not missing much sports action in these parts as you can gather. Take care.

KEY PITCHER — Romulus' Commercial Carriers captured the Senior Little League baseball championship this year and one good reason was the pitching efforts of Gary Williams who posted a 4-1 personal record on the mound.

Tigers join new scouting bureau

DETROIT — The Tigers today became a member of a new Major League Scouting Bureau, organized by 17 clubs. Jim Campbell, executive vice-president and general manager who was a member of the committee which set up the new organization, announced the Tigers' step into cooperative scouting.

James A. Wilson, who has been vice-president and director of baseball operations of the Milwaukee Brewers, will be the head of the new organization. He will be assisted by Donald F. Pries, who was assistant to the general manager of the Baltimore Orioles. Wilson and Pries both resigned today from their club positions.

THE NEW BUREAU will have five zone supervisors and a staff of 35 to 40 full-time scouts, plus an equal number of part-time scouts, to cover the United States, it was explained.

towards the end. Steve on the other hand, did well the first half, but never batted under 500 for a game since the All-Star break.

MIKE WAS an important factor in a few of our victories. He lead the team in stolen bases, and if it wasn't for the hussling game we played, and Mike coming through so well, maybe the standings would reflect a closer race."

Baumann pointed out that the most important factor over-all in the team was the pitching of Mike Marsiglia.

"The team rallied around Mike on the mound. He was a leader and seemed to get the best out of the players. His record proves it. He pitched two one-hitters and both games no errors were committed by any player. "Mike's only loss in his two year span in Senior League Ball came when four of our regular starters were either on vacation or ill. Mike certainly has a bright future in baseball. He has to be one of the best control pitchers in Romulus Little League ball today."

"But, the championship would not be ours if we didn't get the best from every player," Baumann added.

Cheryl Wedyke homered for the Squad with Debbie Wilcox adding three hits, and Janeal Eberline, Bev Yurchak, and Sherry Wilcox collecting two each, to back up the good pitching defense of Bertha Sterling.

Auto deaths drop in police reports

A total of 164 deaths on Michigan highways were recorded in July, a figure that is 27 per cent less than the all-time high of 225 deaths during the same month last year, according to the traffic division of the state police.

The provisional total included 34 deaths that occurred during the July 4 holiday weekend.

The July total was 53 below the average of 217 for that month in the past five year period.

The July deaths brought the accumulated toll for the year to 942. Compared to the 1,291 deaths in the same 7-month period last year, a reduction of 349 is recorded.

Michigan traffic deaths have shown decreases in each of the last 12 months compared with corresponding months a year earlier. The lowered speed limit, a slower economic pace in some phases of industry and some decrease in travel mileage have been credited as factors leading to the decrease in deaths.

Belleville police buy radar device

The Belleville Police Department this week began operations with an improved radar unit in its traffic enforcement work.

The radar unit purchased with Belleville City Council's approval was delivered to the police department last Thursday. It cost the city $1,400.

Police Chief Clayton McLaughlin said the new radar equipment will give the city's police force two radar-equipped scout cars for patrolling the city streets.

High school offers equivalency exam

Persons seeking credit toward a high school diploma will have an opportunity to obtain it at Huron High School on Monday, Tuesday and next Wednesday.

The General Education Development (GED) test, commonly referred to as the high school equivalency examination, will be conducted at the high school between 6 to 10 p.m. each day.

The examination makes it possible for men and women that have left school without receiving their diplomas to receive an equivalency certificate.

The high school also will give credits toward actual high school diplomas upon successful completion of the examination.

The test is free if the individual is enrolled in the school district's adult education program, or is a resident of the school district. The cost of the test is $15 for persons out of the district and not enrolled in the program.

Further information may be obtained calling Roger Benner, community school director at 782-2441.

Butch and the Kid are back!

Paul Newman and Robert Redford star in the popular film, "Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid," soon to return for limited engagements at local theaters and drive-ins.

The film, produced by John Foreman and directed by George Roy Hill, won critical and popular acclaim when it was first released several seasons ago.

To honor America

Village plans muster

In anticipation of America's bicentennial, Greenfield Village in Dearborn, has added a new special event to this year's calendar. The sights and sounds of 18th-century America come to life at the Colonial Military Muster Aug. 24 and 25.

The first event of its kind held at Greenfield Village and the Henry Ford Museum, the muster recalls the life of British and American military units in the years surrounding the Revolutionary War.

MORE THAN A dozen military units representing British and American troops will participate in the activities. Dressed in uniforms that are authentic right down to the shoe buckles, the soldiers present a living panorama of early American life, a village spokesman said.

On Aug. 24, following a parade, the military units set up field camps in the 18th-century tradition on the activities field and actually prepare their meals over open fires. Later in the day, there are musical performances and an assembly of troops for battle practice and maneuvers.

On Aug. 25, British and American units demonstrate drill procedures of the 1700s. Between drills, a team takes to the field to demonstrate the loading and firing of a Revolutionary War-era cannon. Later, the Tippecanoe Ancient Fife and Drum Corps of West Lafayette, Ind., and the Plymouth (Mich.) Fife and Drum Corps perform 18th-century music.

A showing of authentic 18th-century fashions and uniforms also takes place Sunday afternoon.

THEN, IN A grand finale to the week-end's activities, all participating British and American units assemble on the field for a mock battle using 18th-century military maneuvers.

Dancers plan recital

A public performance by participants in an Eastern Michigan University high school dance workshop is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Friday in the college's Warner Gymnasium.

Romulus resident Lindy Kogowski, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Kogowski of 25874 Nr.

Romulus resident Lindy Kogowski, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Kogowski of 25874 Normandy, will be among the performers.

The presentation will conclude a 2-week workshop under the direction of Thelma Ray Faulkner, an assistant professor of dance in Eastern's health, physical education and recreation department, and Hazel Holms of the Berkshire College of Education in England.

Modern and jazz dances, various dance compositions and techniques learned during the workshop will be demonstrated in the presentation. Anyone interested in dance has been extended an invitation for the free performance.

But he admitted to having doubts about the part.

AS THE KAHUNA, a traditional Hawaiian religious adviser, Hannemann hand-somely was cast. Standing six feet four and weighing 200 pounds, he had only to scowl in the film to suggest smoldering evil.

"The studio asked for tapes of my voice, and shortly after a man from Disney arrived to catch my act at the Ilikai Hotel," he said. "The contract followed."

Eventually Hannemann met with producer Ron Miller, associate producer Chris Hibler and director Vincent McEveety of "The Castaway Cowboy" troupe.

"My father was a Mormon bishop and I grew up in a religious household," he said. "A bad kahuna. I wasn't sure there was such a thing as a bad kahuna, so I had reservations."

"WE GOT together and changed the character from a kahuna to a tribal leader. That way I felt perfectly free to be a perfect scoundrel," the Polynesian star said.

Hannemann's parents moved to Hawaii in his early youth. He was educated at the University of Hawaii and Ricks College in Idaho. Originally intending to play professional football, he was sidetracked into a show business career after an impromptu singing session with Don Ho.

After working with Ho's show for a while, Hannemann struck off on his own in 1971 and two years later had signed a contract for $2,750,000 with the Ilikai Hotel in Waikiki.

HANNEMANN'S fellow actors in "The Castaway Cowboy" include Robert Culp — best known for his part in the television series, "I Spy" — who plays an unscrupulous businessman, and Eric Shea, a child star who portrays the young boy who discovers the castaway washed up on a Hawaiian beach.

Gamer, who starred for several seasons in television's "Maverick" series, stars in the title role, and Miss Miles is cast as the heroine who plays into the arms of her American hero.

Set on the beautiful island of Kauai, Disney's "The Castaway Cowboy" is entertainment sure to delight the entire family.

Lutheran Synod begins steps to establish a congregation

Steps to establish a new Lutheran congregation of the Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod in the Romulus-Taylor area have recently begun.

To acquaint all interested

Heights Elementary School in Taylor.

Pastor Herbert C. Kuske, chairman of the Michigan District Mission Board of the Wisconsin Synod, will give information concerning the

CITY OF ROMULUS ORDINANCE

CHAPTER II ARTICLE 4

An Ordinance to provide for the office of Commissioner of Noxious Weeds and to provide for the periodic cutting of such noxious weeds and wild growth within the city.

SHORT TITLE: Noxious Weed Ordinance.

WHEREAS, the city council is aware of the existence and proliferation of noxious weeds, other weeds, underbrush, and wild and unkept grasses within the City of Romulus which are or may be detrimental to the public health, safety and welfare of the citizens of the City of Romulus; and

WHEREAS, the city council considers it to be in the best interest of the city to adopt the powers given to a city under Public Act 359, Michigan Public Acts of 1941, as amended.

NOW, THEREFORE, THE CITY OF ROMULUS ORDAINS:

Section 1. Duties of Landowners.

1.1. Noxious Weeds and Wild Grasses. Every person, firm, or corporation owning or occupying land which is platted and subdivided situate in the City of Romulus shall periodically, in a manner calculated to meet the requirements of this ordinance, cut, destroy, or otherwise control all noxious weeds, underbrush or wild grasses found upon such platted and subdivided land within the city and shall keep and maintain such platted and subdivided lots, outlots, or portions of such lots completely free of noxious weeds and shall cut, destroy or otherwise maintain all other weeds and domestic or wild grasses, brush and underbrush to a height not to exceed one (1 ft.) foot.

1.2. The provisions of the foregoing section shall not apply to horticulturally maintained hedges, flowers, garden vegetables, ferns or decorative plants.

1.3. Every person owning or occupying unsubdivided and/or unplatted lands situate in the City of Romulus immediately adjacent to any one or more platted and subdivided lots shall periodically cut, destroy or otherwise control all noxious weeds, wild grasses, brush or underbrush of every type or description to a maximum height of one (1 ft.) foot within a distance of fifty (50 ft.) feet from all or any portion of one or more platted and subdivided residential lots adjacent to the outer perimeter of such unplatted and unsubdivided lands of each and every zoning description within the City of Romulus.

1.4. Every person owning or occupying unplatted and unsubdivided lands, which are not adjacent to platted or subdivided lands within the City of Romulus, shall periodically cut, destroy or otherwise control all noxious weeds, wild grasses, brush or underbrush of every type or description in every zoning district within the City of Romulus to a depth of not less than twenty-five (25 ft.) feet of every city, county or state owned right-of-way within the City of Romulus except that the owners of properties which extend to the corners of intersecting right-of-ways shall periodically cut, destroy or otherwise control the growth of noxious weeds as herein defined, wild grasses, brush or underbrush to a depth of fifty (50 ft.) feet for a distance of one hundred (100 ft.) feet in all from the intersection of corner rights-of-way so that the vision of motorists approaching street intersections shall be clear and unimpaired.

1.5. Notwithstanding the one (1 ft.) foot height control specified in the preceding subsections, it shall be the duty of every person owning or occupying land of every description platted or unplatted within the City of Romulus to periodically destroy, before the seed bearing and dissemination stage of such noxious weeds shall occur, all Canada thistle, doddies, mustards, wild carrot, bind weed, perennial sowthistle, hoary alyssum, ragweed, poison ivy, poison sumac, and goldenrod found upon such property regardless of height.

1.6. Every such person, firm or corporation owning or occupying lands of every type or zoning classification within the City of Romulus who shall fail, neglect or refuse to observe each and every provision of this ordinance in such manner as to destroy, control or otherwise maintain noxious weeds, wild grasses, brush or underbrush in the condition required herein at such intervals throughout the growing season as the same may be necessary shall be subject not only to the cutting, destruction, maintenance or control by persons designated by the City of Romulus at the expense of the landowner but to those penalties, all such costs to become a lien upon the land and all fines and penalties to become a part of the noxious weed fund of the City of Romulus as provided in Section 4 of Act 359 of the Public Acts of 1941, as amended.

1.7. It shall be the duty of the County of Wayne and the State of Michigan, in the case of county owned lands or state owned lands, as the case may be, to meet each and every criteria provided in such ordinance and upon the failure, neglect or refusal of the offending municipal body politic to cut, control, destroy or otherwise maintain any and all noxious weeds, wild grasses, brush or underbrush as those terms are defined herein; it shall be the duty of the Noxious Weed Commissioner to notify the Department of Conservation and/or the Department of Natural Resources of the State of Michigan of such failure, neglect or refusal on the part of any offending municipal body politic, to likewise notify the particular municipal body politic of such lands as may be so offensively maintained as herein provided; whereupon, the City of Romulus, following ten (10) days notice by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the municipal body politic, to the Department of Natural Resources and to the Department of Conservation may enter upon said lands, cut, destroy, or otherwise make such correction necessary to cure such offense; following which suit may be authorized by the council of the City of Romulus against such offending municipal body politic in the court of claims of the State of Michigan upon authorization of the Mayor and council of the City of Romulus.

Section 2. Notice to Destroy Noxious Weeds, Wild Grasses, Brush and Underbrush in Excess of One (1) Foot in Height.

2.1. Publication in Newspaper. The official empowered to enforce the provisions of this ordinance shall notify, by publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the city, every person owning or occupying any land of the types described in the preceding section, which is situated in the City of Romulus, that all noxious weeds, offensive weeds, or wild grasses, brush or underbrush, found on such lands in the portion or portions thereof required by this ordinance shall be destroyed, cut, maintained or otherwise controlled as herein required. Such publication or publications shall commence during the month of March and on any one or more occasions subsequent thereto throughout the growing season. Such notice shall in abbreviated form state the requirements of this ordinance under one heading and thereunder it shall be sufficient to list the property address, if known, the tax item number of the property involved, and the name and address of the person or persons owning the same as shown on the last tax roll of the City of Romulus. The particular offense need not be further specified and all offending properties and owners may be listed under the same general description of the notice to destroy, cut or otherwise control noxious weeds as otherwise defined by the terms of this ordinance.

Such general notice, followed by the names of offending properties, parties and addresses shall also, in brief form, state recommended methods of controlling, cutting, destroying or otherwise maintaining such offending properties as required by Section 4 of the statute.

2.2 Mailing Notice. The official empowered to enforce this ordinance shall notify by ordinary mail every person, firm or corporation owning or occupying land of every type or description within the City of Romulus which is determined by such official to be violative of the provisions of this ordinance. Such notification shall describe the nature of the offense, the best method of treatment thereof and the fact that ten (10) days notice, followed by inaction on the part of the property owner, will subject such property owner not only to the cost thereof if performed by the city, but the exposure to the penalties otherwise imposed by the terms of this ordinance. Proof of such mailing and of publication shall be maintained by the official designated to enforce this ordinance.

Section 3. Destruction of Noxious Weeds, Offensive Weeds, Wild Grasses, Brush and Underbrush.

3.1. In the event the owner or occupant of any of the lands herein described fails, neglects or refuses, after ten (10) days' notice as provided in this ordinance, to cut, destroy or otherwise maintain all noxious weeds, offensive weeds, wild grasses, brush or underbrush as herein set forth the official empowered to enforce this ordinance, any designated city employee and/or designated contracting persons, firms or corporations employed for that purpose may enter upon the lands so neglected and cut, destroy, control or otherwise maintain all noxious weeds, offensive weeds, grasses, brush or underbrush in the manner herein set forth and in the case of acreage not platted or not subdivided to the depth from right-of-way herein set forth. Such destruction, cutting, control or other maintenance shall be by that method or those methods best calculated to destroy noxious weeds and control weeds, brush, underbrush, or wild grasses best calculated to accomplish that purpose and done in a manner that will not damage horticulturally maintained shrubbery, hedges, trees or growing crops located thereon or adjacent thereto.

3.2. Trimming of Brush or Underbrush in Excess of One (1) Foot in Height. In the discretion of the official empowered to enforce the provisions of this ordinance, or any agent or employee appointed by him, all brush or underbrush exceeding one (1) foot in height may be trimmed in such manner as to make the same horticulturally attractive, if the same be deemed capable of such correction, and trimming or, if deemed useless, may be cut to a height not exceeding one (1) foot or entirely destroyed.

Section 4. Costs - Method of Charging Landowner.

4.1. The City of Romulus shall have a lien upon such lands for any expenses incurred in the destruction of noxious weeds, offensive weeds, wild grasses and the trimming or destruction of brush or underbrush as otherwise set forth herein. Such lien is to be enforced by the addition of the cost thereof to the city tax bill applicable to such property or properties as shown on the tax rolls in the City of Romulus and in the manner prescribed in the City Charter for the enforcement of tax liens. In addition thereto, any expense in such case assessed shall be forthwith sent to the last property owner of record as shown on the tax rolls of the City of Romulus within sixty (60) days from the date a statement thereof was forwarded to the landowner or occupant, then the lien procedure hereinabove described shall be reported to the City Assessor who shall assess the amount against the land in question. Failure of the City to provide written notice of such additional charges shall constitute no defense to additional assessment as provided in this article nor shall it prevent addition of the costs to the tax rolls applicable to such property or properties as required by the provisions of this section.

Section 5. Authority of Enforcement Officers to Effect Provisions of this Ordinance.

5.1. The enforcing officer and his authorized representatives shall be granted free access to and from any land for the purpose of investigation to determine whether violations of this Ordinance exist, and for the work necessary to accomplish the destruction of noxious weeds or maintenance of brush and underbrush in violation of this Ordinance. No person shall obstruct or prevent such work. Such authorized representatives, after performing their duty in a prudent manner, shall not be liable for suit in any action of trespass therefor, and shall be defended in any action arising therefrom by the City Attorney until final disposition of the proceedings.

5.2. The official empowered to enforce the provisions of this ordinance shall be empowered to cut, maintain, destroy or otherwise control all growth of the type described herein a) by the use of city employees with city equipment at the then prevailing wage of such city employee to effect such correction; b) by the employment of one or more individuals or contractors to effect such correction as required by the terms of this ordinance except that should a gross bid for all offending properties be granted the competitive bidding requirements of the Charter of the City of Romulus shall be observed.

5.3. Where possible, the independent contractors selected shall be persons of school age or senior citizens but, in all such cases, it shall be necessary for any independent contractor to meet any and all requirements of the workmen's compensation act of the State of Michigan and to provide the City of Romulus with a certificate of public liability and property damage insurance in an amount deemed by the person charged with the performance of this ordinance to be adequate coverage considering the extent of the particular contractual undertaking.

Section 6. Definitions.

1. Noxious Weeds. Noxious Weeds shall include all weeds defined in Section 2, Public Act 359 of 1941, as amended, and all common weeds and wild grasses permitted to exceed the height limits of one (1 ft.) foot.

2. Brush or Underbrush. Brush or underbrush shall be defined as any weed not previously classified as a noxious weed and all other wild brush, grass or other underbrush which is not a grain, ornamental flower, plant, tree, vegetable, hedge or bush and which properly grows wild without the necessity of planting and cultivating by the landowner.

3. Horticultural Growth. Horticultural growth shall be defined as any grain, ornamental flower, plant, tree, vegetable, hedge or bush or other growth which is planted and cultivated by a person.

Section 7. Penalty.

7.1. Any person owning or occupying land which is situated in the City of Romulus of the type described by the terms of this ordinance who shall fail, neglect or refuse to cut, destroy or otherwise maintain all noxious weeds, offensive weeds, wild grasses, brush or underbrush found upon the land owned by any such person, firm or corporation shall, upon personal service by the official empowered to enforce the provisions of this ordinance or by any person deputized by him for such purpose, shall, in addition to the costs of correcting such violation, be subject to a fine of not more than ONE HUNDRED ($100.00) DOLLARS upon conviction for such violation.

7.1. Any and all fines collected for such violation shall, as required and/or permitted by Section 4 of Act No. 359 of the Public Acts of 1941, as amended by Act 114 of the Public Acts of 1947 as amended, be paid by the District Court into a fund to be maintained by the Treasurer of the City of Romulus as the "noxious weed control fund". Such fund shall be used:

1) To defray any costs, expenses, salaries incurred in the enforcement of this ordinance, including publication costs, mailing costs and the like.

2) For the purchase of poisons, lawnmowers, trimming equipment, including riding mowers if the same be deemed necessary.

3) At the end of each fiscal year any balance may, in the discretion of the council of the City of Romulus be transferred into the general fund of the city.

Section 8. Noxious Weeds Commissioner.

8.1. The Noxious Weeds Commissioner required by Act 359 of the Public Acts of 1941, as amended, designated by this ordinance to enforce the provisions of this act, shall be the Superintendent of Public Works of the City of Romulus. He shall hold office for two (2) years or until his successor is appointed and his compensation shall be governed by the terms of the Charter for the City of Romulus. Should the Superintendent of Public Works, during his term of office as required herein, retire, resign or for any reason be discharged, if he is to continue in the office provided herein for the balance of his term, it shall be at such rate of compensation as shall be fixed by the Mayor and Council for the City of Romulus. The name of such commissioner shall be supplied by the Council to the State Department of Agriculture within ten (10) days after the making of such appointment.

8.2. During his term of office any and all requirements of Act 359 of the Public Acts of 1941 shall be fully and completely observed by such commissioner.

Section 9. Conflicting Ordinance Repeal.

9.1. Ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed only to the extent necessary to give this ordinance full force and effect. This ordinance shall not be interpreted to restrict the provisions of any section of Public Act 359 of the Public Acts of 1941 or any amendments thereof.

Section 10. Should any portion of this ordinance be held invalid for any reason, such holding shall not be construed as effecting the validity of any of the remaining portions of this ordinance.

Section 11. The provisions of this ordinance being deemed by the Council of the City of Romulus to be of an emergency nature are declared to become effective immediately upon publication.

Date of Adoption: July 30, 1974

Date of Publication: August 14, 1974

The undersigned, Leonard J. Folmar, duly qualified, elected and acting Clerk of the City of Romulus, does hereby declare that the foregoing ordinance was duly adopted by the Council of the City of Romulus and published on the dates set forth above.

Leonard J. Folmar, City Clerk

RELOCATING DOESN'T HAVE TO BE DISLOCATING.

We belong to RELO, a national real estate organization whose job it is to relocate you physically without relocating you mentally.

And this we can do. Through our association with RELO, we can help relocate you to at least 6,500 different communities throughout the country.

All you have to do is contact any one of our offices, and we'll take it from there.

But remember one thing. If we can relocate you from coast to coast with a minimum of woe, imagine what we can do anywhere around Detroit and its environs.
